

CONTENTS

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	x
PRELIMINARY NOTES	xvi
Spelling and pronunciation	xvi
Indigenous words in the text	xvi
Abbreviations used in the text	xvi
Symbols and equivalences	xvii
Conventions used in the book	xvii
PREFACE	xix
Acknowledgements	xxi
Informants cited	xxv
1. INTRODUCTION	1
Assumptions and puzzles	1
Propositions and discussions	4
Theoretical context	6
Structure of the book	8
2. STAYING FIJIAN: VATULELEAN IDENTITY, CHANGE AND STRESS	10
Identity	12
Identity and stress	20
The historical configuration of identity in Vatulele	21
Origins	22
The symmetries of kinship	26
(a) Siblings (vītacini , vīgwāneni) and Cross-Cousins (vītavaleni)	27
(b) The sister's child (vahu)	28
(c) The vahu 's social mirror, the maternal uncle or gwazi	29
(d) A child and the father 's maternal uncle — the institution of limatabu	29
Challenges to identity	31
(a) The coming of the Westerners	31
(b) The Wesleyan Methodist Church	32

Fijian identity in the colonial era	33
Vanua — Land, place and identity	37
The land and political unrest at the end of the millennium	39
(a) Indians and ethnic competition	40
(b) Fijians and the economy — insulation and surrogacy	43
Art, ritual and daily life in the ‘high colonial’ years (1874-1941)	44
World War II: the watershed of Vatulelean identity	46
Colonial disengagement and Fijian traditionalism	49
From Independence to the present	50
(a) Information media and social stress	51
(b) Urbanisation, nationalism and masi	53
(c) The 1997 and 2000 Coups d’État	54
Vatuleleans and the Vatulele Island Resort: the first five years	58
Vatulelean identity today — a model of syncretism	63
Individualism and anomie	67
3. INDIGENOUS ART OR AIRPORT ART?	70
The souvenir market as ‘replacement patron’	72
Tourism: destroyer of indigenous culture?	74
Tourism: saviour of indigenous culture?	78
Front-region/Back-region and ‘economic dualism’	80
The tourist ‘handicraft’ industry in Fiji	84
4. ART, MEANING AND MYTH	90
Western neglect of indigenous or ethnic art	93
Fabrics as social objects	95
Art and identity	96
Theories of identity, cultural efflorescence and social cohesion	97
(a) Burke’s Cyclical Identity Theory	97
(b) Kavolis’s views on the relationship of social stress and artistic efflorescence	97
Art and meaning	100
Socio-semiotics	101
(a) Sign-functions	101
(b) Denotation, connotation , and ‘dual coding’	102

(c) Signifiers and inscribed meanings	103
(d) Similarity and contiguity, or paradigm and syntagm	104
Masi as myth	106
Airport art as non-indigenous myth	110
5. BARKCLOTH'S ASCRIBED AND INSCRIBED MEANINGS	118
The principal ritual signs	118
(a) Yaqona (known throughout the Pacific as kava)	119
(b) Tabua — the specially-prepared and ritually-sanctioned tooth of the cachalot or sperm whale	121
(c) Io (SF ibe) — Mats	125
Masi — the 'special' sign in Vatulele	127
Early accounts of ritual prestation of masi	128
The spirituality of masi	130
Masi as male 'badge of virility'	132
Masi as status-sign	136
The relationship of masi and tabua	137
Colour as cosmological sign	138
Abstraction versus Representation	143
Inscription of meaning in the figuration of Fijian masi	144
Symmetry: the organising principle of Fijian culture	145
Symmetry in masi figuration	146
A rose by any other name...	147
Vatulele's figured masi	150
Standardisation of masi figuration throughout Fiji	151
Symmetry within motifs	158
Aesthetics and Vatulele masi	159
6. RITUAL IN VATULELE	168
Ritual, mind, and society	169
Ritual, identity and change	170
Symmetries in ritual and non-ritual events	175
Goods prestation: the 'game' of presenting and receiving goods	176
The ritual template	178

Ritual, play and joking	182
Mutual prestation versus trade	186
Ritual prestation and social solidarity	192
(a) Betrothal	193
(b) Bride-theft	194
(c) Luvabenu — Lifting of mourning in Vatulele	196
The efflorescence of ritual	200
The inalienability of the gift?	205
Ritual as empowerment	213
(a) Money, status and power	214
(b) Ritual and power	217
7. GOODS PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION	222
Sanctioned goods — i-yau	222
I-yau ni vanua — regional copyright and obligation	225
Gendered goods	228
(a) Men's valuables — i-yau vātagwāne	228
(b) Women's valuables — i-yau vāyalewa	229
(c) Sanctioned and gendered food	230
Mediating the 'mode of production' of i-yau	231
The social contract	237
Vatulele's exchange partners	238
Masi as the i-yau ni vanua of Vatulele	240
Survival and loss in the regional manufacture of i-yau	242
8. FROM NON-RITUAL TRADE TO COTTAGE INDUSTRY	248
Non-ritual goods circulation in Fijian society	248
Vatulele's isolation, transport and markets	250
Vatulele's commercial enterprises	252
(a) Agriculture	252
(b) Fishing	253
(c) Coconuts	254
(d) Cassava	255
The development of the non-indigenous market for masi	256
(a) Small beginnings	257

(b) The Korolevu Beach Hotel and the development of tourist- tapa	257
(c) Vatulele ‘middlemen’ or agents	258
The indigenous market	260
Kerekere or socially-sanctioned ‘cadging’	263
Vihā — traditional non-ritual trade	265
(a) Large vihā trips	265
(b) Inter-personal vihā and the cash-based ota (‘order’) system	268
Social value and commodity price	271
Adaptations of form	276
The masi industry and urban drift	278
The Vatulele Island Resort and masi	280
Cash income and gender status	281
1995 Survey	287
A summary of the more interesting results:	287
9. IN CONCLUSION (AND ANTICIPATION...)	290
The meaning and social role of masi	290
Staying and becoming Fijian	292
Social identity and economics	294
The ongoing process and unfinished project	299
Technological change and its attendant problems	301
(a) Changing production methods.	301
(b) The pressure on women	302
(c) Ecological impacts	304
The pressure of social change	305
Masi and Vatulele’s future	307
NOTES	311
BIBLIOGRAPHY	338
GLOSSARY of Vatulelean and Standard Fijian	373
1. Fijian/Vatulelean orthography and pronunciation	373
2. The glossary	374
INDEX	389

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

COVERS

Cover illustration captions	iv
-----------------------------	----

FIGURES

Figure 1 Pre-colonial Fijian social structural organisation	34
Figure 2 Colonial Fijian administrative organisation	35
Figure 3 Traditional domains of identity	36
Figure 4 Burial mats and barkcloth	126
Figure 5 Layout for Vatulele taunamu great cloths	141
Figure 6 Disparate motifs named after the tadruku (Chiton squamosa)	148
Figure 7 Bolabola ('Divided up') motif	159
Figure 8 Typical traditional organisation of motifs	275
Figure 9 Design layout changes	277
Figure 10 Pattern layouts on solofua and 8' x 4' and 6' x 4'	278

GRAPHS

Graph 1 Relative income from indigenous and tourist sales 1994-1995	261
Graph 2 Resident population 1901-1995	279

MAPS

Map 1 Map of Fiji Islands	xiv
Map 2 Map of Vatulele Island	xv
Map 3 Ekubu and Taunovo villages 1990s	24
Map 4 Production/distribution network	239

PHOTOS

Preface

P1 My Vatulele mentors 1980	xxii
P2 Bulou Iva Domonatagi, 1985	xxiii
P3 Susana Yalovi 1984	xxiii
P4 Author with hosts 1993	xxiv

Chapter 1

1.1 Ekubu village, 1989	xxvi
1.2 Amelia Sukulu beating (tutumahi) in the kitchen, 1984	xxvi
1.3 Aliji Tuvu commencing the felting process (called tabei), 1980	xxvi
1.4 Sun-drying (vādrāhiga mahi). 1989	2

Chapter 2
2.1 Identity affirmation 1993	18
2.2 Disused yavu housemound, Ekubu Village	23
2.3 A chief of Vatulele 1827	30
Chapter 3
3.1 Cruise-liner tourist at a curio stall pre-1937	73
3.2 Coconut head 1950s	73
3.3 'The smiling Fijian'	88
Chapter 4
4.1 Printing a taunamu 1989	92
4.2 Stencilling a taunamu 1949	92
4.3 Printing a mahi kolikoli of i-oro form 1949	92
4.4 Tourist- tapa	112
Chapter 5
5.1a A whole yaqona plant	119
5.1b Presentation of a whole plant 1981	119
5.2 Presenting a tabua 1993	120
5.3 Presentation tabua	121
5.4 Finishing off the grave 2003	127
5.5 Kumi covering the grave 1984-1985	127
5.6 Bridal couple, Ovalau, 1912	129
5.7 Hybrid female dress about 1900	135
5.8 Moce Island masi kesa old and new	155
5.9 Cutting a stencil (kojikoji)	158
5.10a Kupeti 1981	166
5.10b Damaged kuveji 1980	166
5.11a Adi Litia rubbing the tahina of a taunamu 1989	167
5.11b Corner of a Namuka (Lau) kumi 1985	167
Chapter 6
6.1 Clowning around 1993	183
6.2 Rites of reversal	185
6.3 A great length of bolting cloth 1993	190
6.4 Household goods for the vāmāmaca	195
6.5 Luvabenu presentation	200
6.6 Cutting the hair of the mourner	200
6.7 First birthday party	205
6.8 a-f The ogaoga busy-ness of inter-island ritual events	206
6.9 Taunamu held aloft by its makers 1980	209
6.10 Lauan heirloom taunamu being hung up 1981	210
6.11 Cakaudrove taunamu	211

Chapter 7

7.1 Young learners 1985	232
7.2 A 'learner' ike	232
7.3 Ekubu work-group 1984	233
7.4 Tuvaulu 'wake' presentations 2003	234
7.5 'Arts and crafts in Nandronga Province' 1930s	241
7.6 Learning and beating 1981	247
7.7 Some women bring masi -making skills with them 1989	247

Chapter 8

8.1 'Fiji canoe' about 1910	250
8.2 The 7.00 am boto 1989	251
8.3 Korolevu Beach 1989	251
8.4 Young masi suckers	252
8.5 Bêche de mer 1995	253
8.6 Rātū Mitieli collecting tavioka 1995	255
8.7 Garden with young kumala and uvi 1995	256
8.8 Korolevu Beach Hotel Shop 1960s	257
8.9 Mataihulu tolu set of ceremonial dress	276
8.10 A shell (and masi) market 1993	280

Chapter 9

9.1 Harvesting masi 1995	303
9.2 Wave notches 1993	308
9.3 Sea-wall, Ekubu	309
9.4 Mature vehi tree	310

TABLES

Table 1 Colour symbolism	140
Table 2 Motif occurrence on Vatulele taunamu	151
Table 3a Equivalence of barkcloth and mats in non-ritual exchanges	274
Table 3b 1995 indigenous-market cash values	274

COLOUR PLATES

PLATE 1

- (a) Ekubu-Taunovo villages
- (b) Masi plantation
- (c) Identity signs: vācadra ritual 1993

PLATE 2

- (a) Prehistoric cliff-paintings 1995
- (b) Typical small tourist-tapa 1993

- (c) 'Multiple personality' masi
- (d) Printing a commissioned wedding-taunamu 1989

PLATE 3

- (a) Tabua presented to the author's mother
- (b) Carved whale-ivory pendant
- (c) Presentation tabua
- (d) Display of art-work 1980

PLATE 4

- (a) Rātū Sela Tuigaloa in full regalia
- (b) Huge vakabati fringed mats
- (c) Masi baptism 'rug'

PLATE 5 A taunamu great cloth

PLATE 6

- (a) Impromptu vāmāmaca 1993
- (b) Women of Nalimolevu in full regalia 1993

PLATE 7 Lifting of mourning rituals

- (a) 'Lifters of mourning'
- (b) Laying out the presentation kumi
- (c) Processing with their kumi
- (d) Heaping the gifts
- (e) Mourners removing the pile of masi and mats

PLATE 8

- (a) Birthday party ritualised 1989
- (b) Stencil-printing the red 'filler' motifs
- (c) Wet-weather market of tourist-tapa
- (d) The boto 'Koripeli' 1993
- (e) 'Eitbaifoa' bedcover or ubinimoce

